NATIONAL COLLEGE OF EDUCATION EVANSTON, ILLINOIS

Foreword

National College of Education prepares its students for one of the most important occupations of our time. Teaching, as a profession, has acquired more and more status in the community as its great significance has been realized.

We, the teachers of tomorrow, are the bearers of the democratic ideals and concepts of our country. We are the shapers of character and personality in future citizens. And we are the instillers of the appreciations of life and culture in young people.

National College prepares teachers to carry out these objectives. Classes and activities stimulate thought, develop the teacher's personality and character, and give her the appreciations of life and culture which she will need as a modern educator. National itself lives the democratic ideal in promoting cultural exchange among its students by throwing open its doors to people of all cultural groups.

We re-discover the makings of the child and learn to give him experiences which will promote his best growth. We discover, through our many actual contacts with children, the delightful teacher-child relationships of friendship, guidance and mutual confidence.

Through our college years we become enriched with new and lasting friendships as well as new ideals and new knowledge.

In our NATIONAL of 1948-1949 we present all the aspects of our college life. Between the red covers are scenes which we shall always want to remember. Then, begin now to turn the pages—for a glimpse of National College of Education. . .

Dedication

Each student at National College of Education has been personally enriched by the steadfast example of the vigilant service and internal strength of President Baker. She has marched spiritually at the side of many struggling teachers. Therefore, as we bid her farewell, that these things may longer be remembered the National staff of 1949 dedicates this book to Edna Dean Baker.

President

The class of 1949 is going forward to meet the challenge of a modern world. The hurried, busy activities of classes and student teaching have come to an end, and the new teachers are taking their places in schools throughout the country. However, the vivid memories of their senior year will be with them for some time to come.

Their excellent participation in athletic events won them the hockey trophy and set a goal for future classes.

National will long remember the guidance and inspiration of the girls of '49.

Four years of doing things together:
Think as you mount each step,
What joy has been held in every hour of learning, in every hour of playing,
in every hours of just being together.
Four long years—how short they became
And seem as only a moment in the span of time.
But even as the wide world holds out its beckoning hands to us
We shall remember.

Future Graduates

1. Don't you look nice
2. Soooooo tired
3. Really???
4. Oh those midnight snacks
5. Smile
6. Between classes

We who are to be the guides of tomorrow
Need good guidance today.
We need the wise counsel and hearty encouragement
Of our friends with their long years of experience,
Our patient instructors, who give us the truths
And point out the trails which we shall follow.
The knowledge and techniques with which we are armed
To face the future's work
Come from our hours of learning
Spent happily in National's peaceful atmosphere.
Although we leave these happy years behind
The thoughts inspired and dreams begun remain.

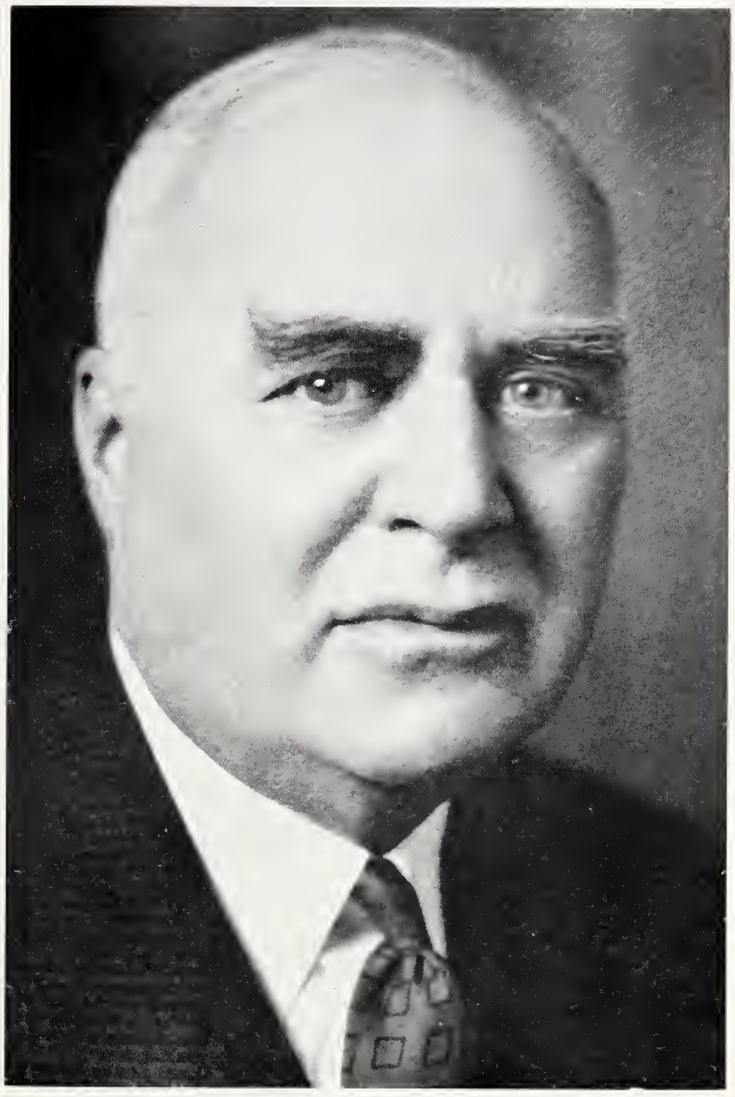
EDNA DEAN BAKER

It has been the privilege of National College af Educatian ta share many jays with Edna Dean Baker. It is naw with sorraw that we say gaodbye. For many years President Baker has been this institutian's greater future. She has been the firm foundation of its educatianal gaals as well as the prophet of its higher ambitions. Her alert participatian in many educational undertakings has braught ta the school alive, pragressi ve guidance, and her work and ability have added hanar and recagnitian to its name. Her love for children, her eagerness to kindle in every persan a similar spark, has been felt by every student who has heard her speak af them. Edna Dean Baker remains to us the symbal af National College of Educatian.



CONRAD H. POPPENHUSEN

July 21, 1872—March 20, 1949

Throughout the past years, Mr. Conrad H. Poppenhusen, president of the Board of Trustees, has expended tireless energy in behalf of National College of Education. Becoming president of the Board in 1931, at a difficult and trying period, he assumed the burden of many financial problems facing the school. Since then, he has successfully led the college in its effort to solve them. Under his leadership Harrison Hall and the dormitory were freed of large mortgages, and the College acquired Student Center and the much needed Guidance Center. National remains forever indebted to the excellent work of Mr. Poppenhusen.

As democratically governed as this nation, we
Whose council is composed of members from every group on campus.
A student body who participates in all the workings of
Each club and organization.
We work together and thus learn many things;
Tomorrow we can take our places as citizens in many communities
Where we shall be respected,
And as citizens of broader horizons—
The world
To which we belong.

Marienthal

Dorm Officers

About fifteen minutes away from school is Marienthal, the place that out-of-town girls call home. When the girls arrived here September nineteenth, they found the doors wide open and the rooms eagerly waiting to be filled again with warmth, laughter, and happiness. For the first two weeks everyone was an amateur interior decorator, and soon there was a touch of home-likeness and beauty in all the rooms.

Things commenced right away with the Dorm Board, consisting of (left to right) N. Apel, M. Miller, B. Cleereman, F. Kelly, S. Schiff, C. Farquharson, and J. Beers, planning get togethers for the girls. The first big affair was the Dorm mixer, which brought the Halloween spirit to everyone. When the football games started and the Saturday afternoons became brisk and cold, the girls could look forward to a cup of hot tea and a tasty snack in the lounge. When the holiday spirit began to fill the air, their ideas for fun and parties became gay realities.

They will always remember the fire drills, the mock wedding, and the campuses, but the fondest memories of the dorm girls will be the evening snacks, the important talks after Saturday night dates, and the problems of making argyles, all of which developed life-long friendships and made college life what it was.

Harrison Hall

T. G. A. Officers

This is the story of a brave group of people called the Town Girls. Their days begin at the crack of dawn when they leave on the Evanston Express, on the North Shore, or in an automobile of one of the many car pools to arrive at school on time for their eight-thirty classes. After a long day of classes they return home just in time for supper.

The Town Girls' Association is an organization of the girls who live in homes in Chicago and the North Shore. Through this association the girls are able not only to become better acquainted, but also to work together to build a finer group.

The T.G.A. holds monthly meetings in the Alumnae Room. Under the able direction of (left to right) Miss Weller, faculty sponsor; C. Giroux, treasurer; M. L. Rudolph, social chairman; L. Werhane, vice president; V. Affhauser, secretary; and J. Carney, president, the Town Girls plan many activities for themselves and their families and friends. This year the Christmas season was opened with the Town Girls' dinner. The girls' families met together at the father-daughter banquet and the mother-daughter luncheon.

The T.G.A., besides uniting the Town Girls, has given them the chance to make lasting friendships and gain memories that they will cherish for the rest of their lives.

The College Council consists of representatives from the classes, the organizations and the faculty of National.

The group assembles monthly just before class meetings to discuss problems brought up by the students and faculty during the month. In this way many worthy school projects are initiated. One of this year's projects was the purchase of an elegant coffee table for the Student Center.

College Council

The College Council acts as a student government and suggests ideas to the students that will raise the standards of the school.

Directing student activities is the other aspect of College Council. Some of the programs that the Council has been in charge of are the Thanksgiving Program, the Christmas Play, and the Spring Festival.

Through the College Council the students of National have been able to govern themselves in a democratic way, and they themselves can feel responsible for many of the high ideals of their school.

The Student editors and reporters of Chaff have been busy following up news tips or covering various important events in school this last semester. Alert reporters with a real desire to make Chaff enjoyable reading for the students, have succeeded in representing all the student body in the paper.

Since Chaff first came out this year it has been reduced to a single sheet, but it continues to have pictures and complete coverage of all college activities.

Staff meetings are held to discuss improvements and to offer criticism for the building of an even better Chaff.

The NATIONAL of 1949 presents a pictorial account of the life of the faculty and students of a teachers' college—National. As the contents indicate, there are six major divisions of the book: Faculty, Future Graduates, Organizations, Student Teaching, Activities, and Sports.

The staff has worked cooperatively and will always remember getting over their first haze and maze into a realm of ingenious ideas; the burden of work with paper, pencils, notes, word counts, pictures, make-up; the pages of live, invigorating material; but most of all the deadline. Our final deadline has been met, and we sincerely hope you like it.

The dance group is an extra-curricular activity which meets one evening each week. It is open to any girl in the college who enjoys creative dance and its activities become purposeful in that the members of the dance group provide the choreography and dance performance in each of several programs presented by the college during the school year.

Dance Group

The Athletic Board organizes the sports program at N.C.E. With Mr. Hardy's guidance the above girls, Joan Schlenker, Aileen Haug, and Mary Lou Oberwise (President), plan a program of hockey, volleyball, badminton, and basketball games for our enjoyment and participation. The eventful individual competitions we enjoy as spectators and participants, as well as the exciting team games, were arranged by the Athletic Board. The Board provides practice times for participants, schedules games, and appoints a score keeper for each event. The cooperation of all National students made this year's sports program very successful.

Athletic Board

Out in the wet morning grass
We run and jump,
Happy to be young and alive and free.
The sounds of the hockey stick against the puck
Mingle with gay shouts and the music of birds
To shatter the morning silence.
Or indoors we hear rubber soled shoes
Scuffling on the smooth gym floor,
The whizz of a badminton bird striking the racquet,
And during a basketball game we watch
The graceful movement of muscles
And shout with surprise when a ball goes into the basket.

Sports

The arrival of a new season brings with it the excitement of new sports to many a Nationalite. Spring and badminton made their grand entrance together this year, arousing athletes to a series of spirited tournaments highlighted by a banquet in April at which coveted trophies were presented to the outstanding teams.

From basket ball and badminton to archery, the teamsters and spectators alike have enjoyed a lively season.

An exciting round of intramural hockey and volleyball games terminated in a grand finale this year—a thrilling exhibition game played for the assembly. Enthusiastic cheering led by class cheerleaders spurred the teams on. Though only one team could be victor in the sense of defeating all others at volleyball, every team triumphed because of its outstanding spirit of sportsmanship and fair play.

The National athletes, while playing their best this semester, have found that everything sacrificed individually would be in vain without that all-important factor of teamwork to pull them through together.

Student spectators have had reason to be proud of their teams this year.

Good Sports

Morning.

Here in one sunny corner of America
A flag is being raised—
The red, white, and blue flown to show its glory to the azure skies;
And while many rows of bright, clear eyes watch with wonder and admiration,
It unfurls gently with the gentle wind.
These many rows of bright, clear eyes—blue and black and brown—
Can see farther into the distant future
Than adult eyes, which perpetually seek the answers to the questions of life.
We of today shall never know what the children see and marvel at;
We can but hope that their visions of the future
Are visions of peace and of a world where brotherhood reigns.
Then let us shape tomorrow to these ends.

N.C.E. offers scholarships each year to thirty juniors. These scholarships are awarded to students outstanding in character, scholarship, and student teaching. As a result of their fine efforts in meeting these standards, the above girls were given an opportunity to further demonstrate their excellent abilities. Their record has proved the faith and confidence of National was well founded.

And in the corridor hangs racks of sparkling costumes.
To see National on the night of the big performance,
Its lighted windows spilling forth gold into the dark night,
To hear the girls' tinkling laughter like a hundred tiny glass bells,
Is to be transported to fairyland—a fairyland of sounds and colors.
Music fills the halls with gaiety,
Before our very eyes the dance mixes many colors to form a lovely, shimmering, spectrum,
Finally, with pomp and ceremony the stately Queen is enthroned amid the cheering throng.
Festival time!
A night we shall count as precious in our treasury of memories.

Thanksgiving Program

In observation of the tradition of many years, the gift processional was the initial event in the Thanksgiving program. As in the past, these gifts will help make Thanksgiving a day in which more children will have something extra to be thankful for.

A series of readings, given by the Drama Club, under the direction of Miss McCaslin, brought us to the sharp realization of how much we, here in America, have to be thankful for.

As the lights of the assembly darkened, our attention was focused, by candle after candle, on readers, who took us back into the past, to a hungry Europe, to a tired China, and to a troubled world, in an attempt to show us that we in America must count our blessings.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Cousins, and the chorus, under the direction of Miss Hunter, sang several beautiful and deeply moving songs, which brought this memorable program to a close.

Christmas Play

This year's Christmas play began with the singing by National's choir of several of the most beautiful and best loved carols. The play itself brought to our hearts a better understanding of the thought behind each gift we give at Christmas.

The play was "Legend of the Juggler," a medieval pantomime recounting events which took place in a monastery in France on Christmas Eve. At the traditional Christmas service the monks reverently offered the fruits of their year's labor: a lovely stone Madonna, a poem, or an oration. Jean, the Juggler, who had no material gifts to offer, gave the best and most sincere gift he had—himself.

The portrayal of this beautiful old legend added much to the Christmas spirit at National.

We aim to take CARE of our own...

. . . the way any proud parent does. And we see to it that our service is one of the extra satisfactions of owning a beautiful Chrysler. We train good men to put as much pride and craftsmanship into servicing your car as the builders put into building it. We use only genuine replacement parts, factory-engineered and tested, and identified by the trade name MōPar. After all, as we see it, it's our business to keep your Chrysler as sweet-running, exciting and wonderful as on the day you bought it.
